

1. Nothing is more important than your health and well-being. The health and well-being of your family may be a close second.
2. Our own health and well-being is directly connected to our collective and communal health and well-being. Everything we do should be about elevating wellness and mitigating the stress

- Study and reflect upon important texts (both contemporary and historical) that inform equity, social justice and critical race perspectives on public education
 - Understand the impact of poverty, systemic racism and conditions on classroom instruction and student achievement.
 - Understand the impact of state and federal funding as well as the persistent (and intentional) budget crisis on LAUSD students, teachers and families.
 - Understand the impact of teacher training, support and evaluation on student achievement and school progress
 - Analyze the role and
